

On the 165th day of "Al-Aqsa Flood Operation", tens of thousands of worshipers flocked to Al-Aqsa Mosque on the 9th day of Ramadan, amidst the deployment of forces at all its gates and its surroundings, while the incursions into the towns and neighborhoods of Jerusalem continued.

Tens of thousands of worshippers flocked to Al-Aqsa, throughout the day, to perform prayers and listen to religious lessons and read the Qur'an, while 20 thousand worshippers performed the Isha and Taraweeh prayers.

The occupation authorities continued to remain stationed on the gates of Al-Aqsa and its roads and surroundings, and the forces stopped the young men and subjected them to field searches and investigations.

In the evening hours, the forces arrested the young man Marwan Abu al-Hummos from the Al-Aqsa Squares.

On Tuesday, 54 settlers broke into the courtyards of Al-Aqsa Mosque, during the morning incursions period, in the form of successive groups, guarded by the Israeli police.

The occupation authorities continued to deliver the orders to expel the youth away from the Al-Aqsa Mosque.

The forces stormed the town of Al-Tur, and arrested a Jerusalemite after breaking into his house.
